For the second time in two weeks, Romulus Police have filed a first degree murder charge in relation to a body found sprawled in a non-residential location within the city.

The latest murder victim has been identified as Cedric Huggins, 32, of Detroit. His body was found about noon last Thursday in an isolated area on Henry Ruff Road, a quarter mile north of Ecorse Road.

Police said Huggins was shot several times in the head and his body was left at the site several days earlier.

On Friday, Romulus Police arrested another Detroit man, Joseph Pacely, 57, and charged him with first degree murder and a felony firearms violation. He was arraigned in the out county prosecutor's office on Sunday before Judge Robert Brzezinski. He was ordered held without bond pending his hearing in 34th District Court on Oct. 28.

Police believe they have recovered the murder weapon.

On Oct. 9, 1992, police found the body of Rodney Keith Martin, 36, of Romulus, sprawled on a grassy area outside Cypress Park on Cypress Street.

The body had no identification initially, but later was identified as Martin.

Police later arrested Angelo Sandusky, 36, also of Romulus, and charged him with first degree murder and a felony firearms violation.

Sandusky was arraigned before 34th District Court Judge Felix F. Rogalle and ordered held without bail. His hearing was yesterday.

Candidate will visit
Romulus

The quiet campaign of Martin Siml II, a college student who is the Republican candidate for State Representative in the newly drawn 22nd District, will enter Romulus this weekend.

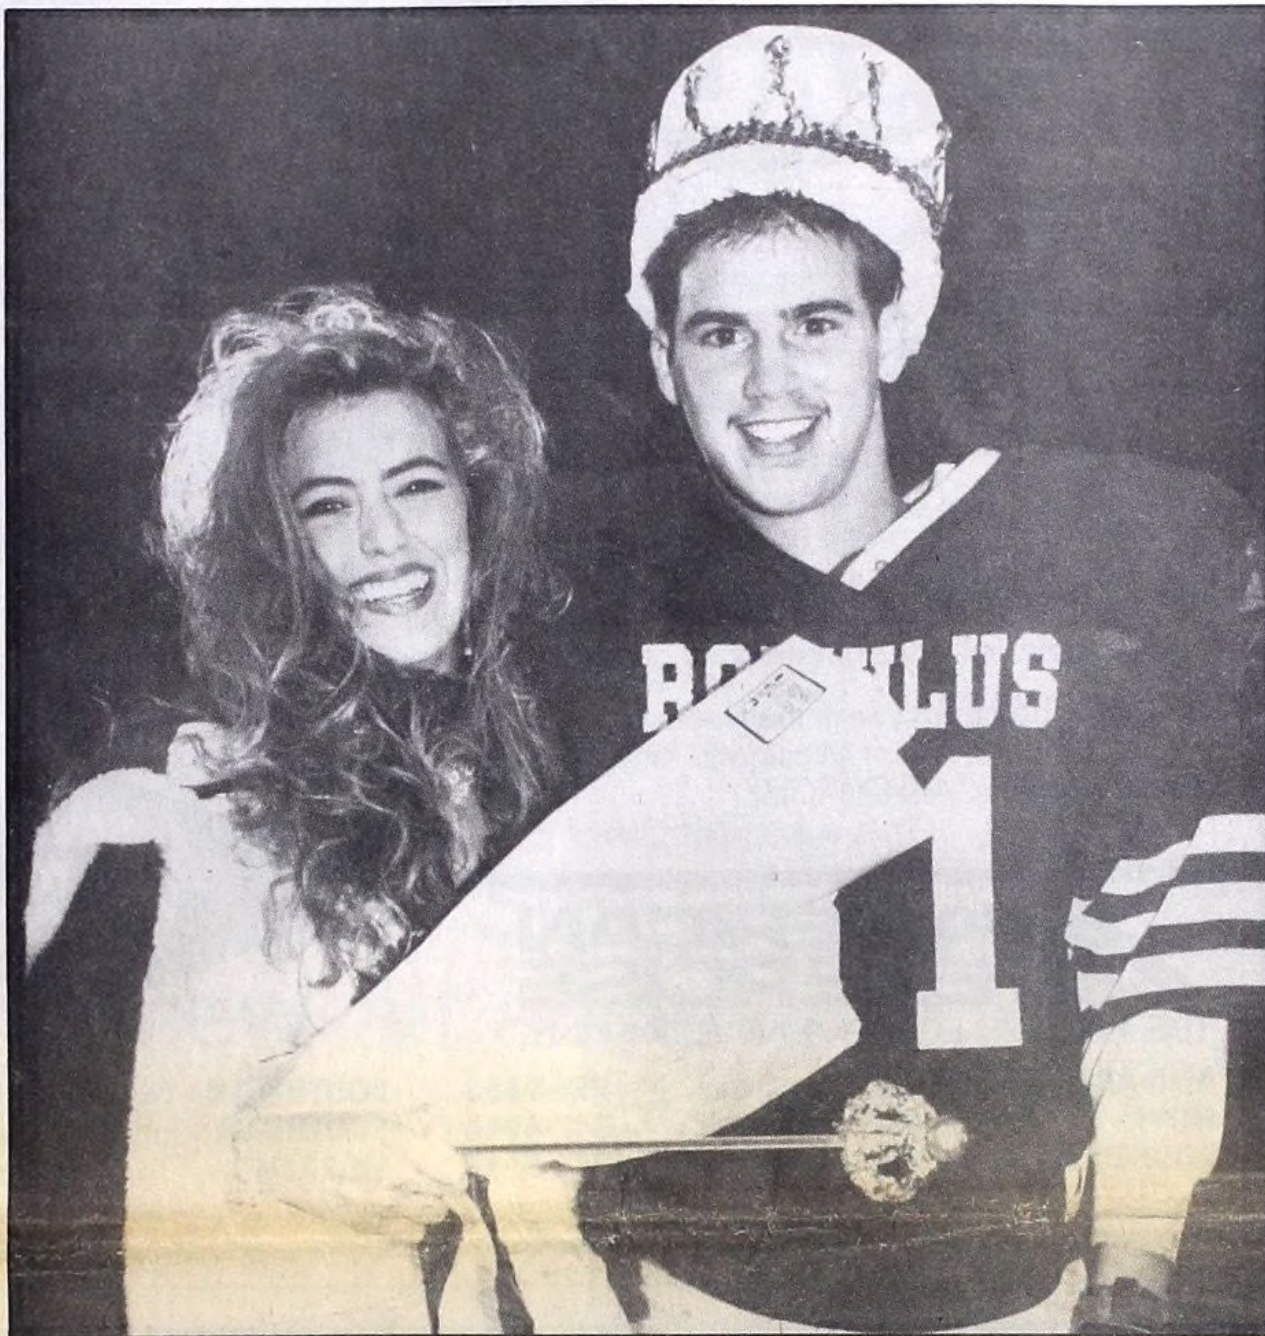

Siml, 22, who is a full-time Wayne County Community College student, knows he faces an uphill battle to defeat incumbent State Rep. Gregory Pitoniak, but feels changes need to be made in government today.

Both Siml and Pitoniak live in Taylor. The new district covers Taylor and Romulus.

Both candidates support pro-life causes. While Siml is not totally aware of Pitoniak's platform, he said, the one striking difference between the two is on Proposal B on the state ballot.

Siml strongly supports limiting state and national lawmakers terms, while Pitoniak opposes the measure.

Siml said his low-budget campaign has been a door-to-door effort in Taylor. He plans to visit Romulus for four or more days in the next two weeks aiming particularly at senior citizen housing units and private homes.

Romulus City Hall employees will have a different view of the Christmas holidays this year.

A massive effort to remove all traces of asbestos from the 22-year-old City Hall building will begin late in December, Mayor Beverly McAnally said.

A great deal of advance work needs to be done, Treasurer James Napiorkowski said, as all the City Hall computers, phones and records need to be transported to portable office space that will be placed in the city parking lot closest to Wayne Road.

McAnally said several months of discussions and examinations have occurred as a prelude to the asbestos removal effort.

"At first we thought about renting a building short term," McAnally said, "but then figured it would be less disruptive for the public if we rented the portable offices and located them in the City Hall parking lots."

Napiorkowski said the portable offices will be handicapped accessible and will be interconnected so that city employees will be able to communicate almost as easily as they do now in the main building.

Right now city officials are collecting prices for the various levels of the moves and temporary set-ups in the parking lot, McAnally said.

Some work has already been done on asbestos levels around the City Hall furnaces. But before any work can be done on any asbestos in or above ceiling tiles, City Hall employees will have to be moved out.

The action is being taken as a health precaution, the mayor said. When the asbestos was placed in it was considered state of the art fire retardant material and was sprayed on rather thickly, McAnally said.

While the ceilings are open, the city will probably also install a sprinkler system, Napiorkowski said.

A consultant, Bradley Field, will coordinate the technical transition elements of phones, computers, etc, McAnally said.

The most stressful periods of the asbestos removal period, estimated to be about two months, will be the week or so when the city equipment and files are moved out of and later returned to city offices, Napiorkowski said.

It has not yet been determined if a similar effort will be conducted in the nearby Romulus Public Library, McAnally said.

Boating mishap claims lives of 2 area youthsBy JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

An early Saturday morning boat ride turned to tragedy for two area families when the craft apparently capsized and two 19-year-old youths drowned in Belleville Lake.

The body of David Ban of Sumpter Township was recovered a few hours after the incident, but Daniel Jahr was still listed as missing on Monday afternoon.

Van Buren Township police had not recovered the body of the second youth at press time.

The two youths reportedly left the lakefront home of the Jahr family at 4:30 a.m. Saturday in a 14- to 16-foot aluminum craft. Police were called when the youths did not return by 6:30 a.m.

Van Buren Township police began searching the lake after the capsized boat was found in the water. The body of the Ban youth was recovered between 8 and 8:30 a.m., shortly after the search began.

Supervisor David Jakokes, who was on the scene Saturday and Sunday, said the search was hampered by the cold water, swift current, wind and murky water. Recovery efforts centered around an area where the water is 19-feet deep and there are many underwater impediments.

"There was zero visibility in the water. Our divers actually stayed in the water too long for the conditions, and we had to order them out when they began to show signs of hypothermia," Jakokes said. "The has been a great outpouring of compassion from the community. Neighbors, friends and even strangers volunteered to help in the search."

Assisting in the search were the Wayne County Sheriff's diving unit, the Detroit Police helicopter and the Van Buren Public Safety diving unit consisting of both fire and police personnel.

"We had off-duty police officers who volunteered their time without compensation and neighbors who took out their boats to aid in the search," Jakokes said.

Neighbors, many of whom have children the same age as the young victims, rallied around the Jahr family to express their sympathy and offer their aid.

Judge and council oppose proposed state changes in court

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Wayne council members recently gave their nod of support toward opposing Senate Bill 460 which states the district court will have exclusive jurisdiction in civil actions when the amount in controversy does not exceed $25,000.

Recently 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold asked council members for their support in opposing the bill.

"If Senate Bill 460 passes in its current form, we believe it will have an enormous impact not only on the district court dockets but also on the funding units for district courts in this state," Archbold said. "In 1971 the jurisdiction of the district court was set at $10,000. It would seem logical that inflation since that date at least equals the $25,000 level.

"The Michigan District Judges Association (MDJA) has no objections to that limit. Our problem will result when the Wayne County Circuit Court removes and sends cases to us when their Mediation Tribunal says the case is valued less than $25,000."

The Flint district bench studied this possibility and came up with an estimate of an increase of 70 percent in mediated cases only, according to Archbold.

"A 70-percent increase in these types of cases only would result in the need for additional staff personnel, additional juror expense and possibly additional judicial help," Archbold said. "We also have to consider that the change in jurisdictional limits will increase the number of cases originally filed in district."

The types of cases the district court receives from the circuit court on removal include contract actions, wrongful discharge, medical malpractice, auto negligence and personal injury, according to Archbold.

"They are not cases that can be tried in an hour or two," Archbold said. "Normally these cases involve several full days of trial time. Last year we tried eight mediated cases in the 29th District Court utilizing approximately 22 1/2 days.

"If these types of cases alone increase by 70 percent, it would mean that 49 percent of our available whole trial days

"A 70 percent increase in these types of cases only would result in the need for additional staff personnel, additional juror expense and possibly additional judicial help."

- Carolyn Archbold
29th District Court Judge

would be used for removal cases only. This does not account for the cases which are set and settled so close to the day of trial that we are unable to reschedule the day with other matters."

The problem is worse in Wayne and Oakland counties, according to Archbold.

"Judges from many other parts of the state indicate they have no problem with their circuit courts dumping civil cases onto their dockets," Archbold said. "In fact, in many parts of this state the circuit and district benches work so closely together that circuit does not remove a case unless the district court indicates they have the time to hear it. We do not have this cooperation in Wayne County."

The solution is that MDJA has approved the concept of the increase in jurisdictional limit but it would be best if the legislature limits the types of cases the district court receives, according to Archbold. "We have expressed a willingness to accept cases which involve no more than two days of trial and cases that the circuit court is now hearing which can be decided in a short period of time," Archbold said. "In this way we can alleviate the backlog and inflationary level and save juror fees and additional expenses for the local funding unit.

"MDJA embraced the Stephens plan which would eliminate the removal of certain types of cases which historically take a long time to try."

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Youth speaker due at high school

Mike Slaughter, who helped develop numerous youth leadership programs in Ohio, will be speaking to Romulus Senior High School students at 10 a.m. Monday.

The motivational speaker will address the students for almost a full school period. He will be accompanied by Community United Methodist Church musical director Peter Dodge.

Slaughter, who met former Russian President Mikhail Gorbachev earlier this year, will appear three nights at the church beginning Sunday at 7 p.m. He also will meet with area pastors at a Monday breakfast at the Comfort Inn. Pastors seeking to join in the breakfast meeting are urged to contact Pastor J.D. Landis at 941-0736.

Slaughter will also lead a question and answer session at the church at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday on issues relating to personal spiritual growth.

Romulus person of year is sought

The search has begun for the 13th annual Romulus Person of the Year.

Romulus Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Karan Cantrell revealed the only criteria is for the nominee to have made a significant contribution to the community.

The winner will be honored at an awards banquet in March 1993.

Nomination forms can be obtained at the chamber office at 31200 Industrial Expressway.

For more information contact Cantrell at 326-4290.

Refrigerator collection goes on

Collection of old refrigerators, humidifiers and air conditioners will continue until Dec. 31, 1992, Romulus Department of Public Works Director James Panos said.

But from Jan. 1, 1993 on, he said, owners will have to have the liquid Freon removed by a qualified recycler and have a certification sticker placed on the appliance, before refuse collectors can cart it away or deposited in area dump sites.

Homeowners are warned not to try to remove the Freon themselves.

While he is not endorsing any such service companies, Panos said, several businesses, including one in Wayne, can satisfy the Freon removal needs for area residents.

Heavy fines will be assessed for those violating the Freon removal law, he cautioned.

Further information is available at 942-7579.

Religious publishers to meet pastors

Area pastors are invited to a breakfast with Michigan religious book publishers at 8 a.m. next Tuesday in Livonia.

Bill Blakemore, owner of Eden Book Store in Canton Township, said representatives of Zondervan and Thomas Nelson Book Publishing firms, will be on hand to introduce several new religious books.

Registration cost is $5 each, Blakemore said. A free breakfast and books supplied by the publisher will be given to each pastor in attendance.

The breakfast will be at Bill Knapp's Restaurant on 6 Mile Road in Livonia.

Reservations may be made by calling Blakemore at 453-9400.

Christmas gala slated for Dec. 12

Romulus senior citizens are being invited to attend a special Lawrence Welk Christmas gala on Dec. 12.

Among those slated to perform are a number of the past stars of the Welk shows including Joe Feeney, Dick Dale and Ava Barber and their band.

The performance will be at the intimate "Ohio Theatre" in Toledo.

1,000 Girl Scouts to view art show

More than 1,000 Girl Scouts from as far away as Troy will be visiting The Academy Neon art show in Romulus this November.

Janice Gillispie, academy director, said the Scouts will enjoy the fun of neon artwork created by her students in the past year. "This is the first time we have offered a children's time for the art show and it's appeal has been growing rapidly."

"Originally we planned only Nov. 21 for a children's show," Gillispie said.

"But the demand for tickets (costing $2) was so great that we have opened the art show to Scouts and other children every Saturday in November. The show will be on display from about 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each Saturday. The academy is located at 24153 Karnack (near the intersection of Pennsylvania and Telegraph)."

The displays will include 8-foot murals, a flying Pegasus, magic swords that light up when they are touched by "girls who are pure of heart" and a windmill that actually spins.

The young Scouts will be allowed to paint their faces with neon colors in front of neon mirrors and will participate in painting a giant mural that will enable them to earn a Scout badge.

Madame President? Student dreams of oval office

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Michigan State University pre-law student Cara Cichowski of Romulus was so impressed with the Presidential debate on campus Monday night that she wants to be one of the participants in the future.

Cichowski, who will graduate next June, said she feels most political candidates have lost touch with the workers in the small towns like Romulus.

"A decade or two from now I'd like to be behind one of the podiums and be running for President," she said with an excited laugh.

In the meantime she has to decide which law school to enroll in next year. "I'm learning toward Georgetown University, but nothing is definite," she said.

Cichowski revealed she is still undecided on who she will support for president this year, but said President Bush received a standing ovation prior to the debate Monday.

Democratic candidate Bill Clinton and independent Ross Perot were greeted with applause when they walked on the stage, she said, but the applause did not equal that for Bush.

Exit pollsters said, however, most MSU students in attendance felt that Clinton won the

Cichowski, who serves as chairperson of the MSU Academic Assembly committee, actually met Bush several hours before the 90-minute debate on the East Lansing campus.

She met Bush in the company of MSU President Gordon Guyer, but admitted she gave him no advice prior to the questioning by national media.

Cichowski said "President Bush queried me about what activities I was involved in at school and told me to keep up the good work."

The pre-law student, daughter of Susan and Jerry Cichowski, witnessed the third and final 1992 debate while seated behind First Lady Barbara Bush.

Monday was just an "incredible" day for the university, she said, as throngs of students watched as TV cameras were set up about campus and within the debate hall.

"I just wish more students had a chance to personally witness the debate first hand," she said, "the candidates look so totally different in person."

Cichowski said the student body was excited by having the event and TV coverage on their campus. "They really ate it up," she said "and many lined the entrance area of Wharton Center to get a first hand look of the participants and their support staff."

Last year Cichowski, a member of Phi Mu sorority, was chairperson of Greek Week fund raising activities that collected $50,000 for the Special Olympics.

She also has been in charge of Rush activities for students seeking admittance to local sororities.

While at Romulus Senior High School, Cichowski was president of the student government and was active in varsity track and cheerleading.

She graduated in 1989 at the age of 16.

Cichowski and her family attend St. Aloysius Church in Romulus.

Hospice work survives death

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Death does not kill hospice services.

As Doris Guy explains, she tried to bury her grief after the death of her husband, James, with long hours of work.

The first six months after his death in 1990, Guy said, she tried to use her busy work schedule as an antidote to the deep pain and confusion she was suffering at the time.

"But unfortunately, I did not feel productive and my memory was not as sharp as it had been, she said.

Since her position at Eastern Michigan University requires her to be in continual communication with special education teachers, support staff and parents, Guy knew she needed a remedy.

After 18 months of grief, Guy felt she needed to extend her relationships beyond her initial core of friends.

After seeing the success Arbor Hospice staff members and volunteers had with her husband, she was encouraged by hospice Director Mary Lindquist to join a survivors group.

First she joined a group known as "New Pathways" and began to see the grief experience from both the widow and widowers point of view.

Guy began communicating with her grandchildren, explaining what their grandfather's death meant to her. She also encouraged them to open up their feelings and to tell her what the loss meant to them.

With the assistance of hospice Bereavement Director Cathy Clough, she joined a group named "New Horizons" and found for the first time since her husband's death she could talk to the group and laugh and cry without feeling out of place.

Through these experiences, Guy was called upon by Clough to work with others to form a more specialized bereavement group known as "The B'tweeners" for those who lost a spouse and continue in the work place. Most of the group are between the ages of 45 and 60, she said.

She invites any Romulus resident suffering from the loss of a spouse to consider joining the group.

The group now meets twice a month, once in nearby Canton Township and once in Novi for informal dinners and supportive talks by various professional persons.

"Those undergoing the pangs of grief need only to attend the sessions they wish and pay for their own dinners. There is no membership fee or any other requirement," she explained.

"Those suffering loss will soon find they are not alone," Guy said, and "will make many friends with those who also are going through the same emotional process. Together we make life first less fearful and then more challenging."

Further information is available at 313-677-0500.

School golf outing successful

More than 100 golfers turned out for the annual Romulus Community School Employee and Friends Golf Outing at the Par 71 Taylor Meadows golf course recently.

Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne, assistant superintendent of schools, coordinated the event. He said it "was truly a community event with a good mix of employees, residents and other friends of the schools."

Winners of the Men's Division (scoring 62) were Paul and Dick Niedermeyer, Fred Coleman and Dennis Davidson.

Women's Division winners (with a score of 89) were Nancy Schonscheck, Carroll Rafalski, Loretta Renke and Mary Ann Banks.

The mixed champions (scoring 67) were Carole and Dan Bales, Rose Nettle and Dick Kruse.

LeCesne was assisted in the planning of the event by Kruse, Nettle, Carole Bales, Barbara Fortune and Lorraine Wilkerson.

Hunting class teaches 'safety first'

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

When Romulus youngsters accompany their families on hunting trips this fall, they will be safety conscious as well as knowledgeable about survival techniques and hunting ethics.

Sixty-eight youngsters from Romulus and Belleville are taking part in a Hunting Safety class being conducted by the Huron Valley Conservation Association (HVCA).

"Our class is going well, and we believe we have provided some good information to the kids," said Richard Kiessel, a HVCA member and middle school teacher. "We brought in two people from the community to provide their expertise - Linton Smith of Smith's Sporting Goods in Belleville and Dan Hall, owner of Hall's Market and Archery in Sumpster Township. Both displayed hunting equipment and answered questions from the students. We had a good session last week when Hall and Smith were here."

Kiessel said the last sessions in safety series will concentrate on survival skills and game care.

Instructing the youths on hunting safety, ethics, wildlife identification and management and first aid as well as firearms and bow hunting are Kiessel, Verdell Baily, Billy Manning and Max Barber, all donating their time through the HVCA. Instructions also are being provided by HVCA members Dennis King and George Watts.

"Our goal is to have the youngsters become knowledgeable, skillful and responsible hunters," said Kiessel, noting that hunting safety classes are mandatory for young hunters. "Instructions began with an introduction and explanation of the training program and hunter ethics. Later, the students learned the history of firearms, gun handling and marksmanship and bow hunting."

The course also covers wildlife identification and instructs the youngsters on wildlife management and game care. Students also study basic survival rules, water safety and first aid.

Head Start observes anniversary month in October

Staff members and pupils are observing Head Start Awareness Month through Oct. 31.

Special activities are marking the event in the program conducted for 108 Van Buren School District youngsters at the Quirk School.

"Our program has been expanded again this year to meet the demands of servicing vulnerable children and their families," said Director Lena Montgomery. "The center serves children who will be 3- or 4-years- old by Dec. 1. Ninety percent of the students are from economically disadvantaged families and 10 percent are children with special needs."

The local Head Start program provides services to strengthen families and to help individuals move from dependency to self-sufficiency, according to the Head Start director.

Project Head Start was launched as an eight-week summer program by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in 1965. It was designed to help break the cycle of poverty by providing preschool children of low- income families with a comprehensive program to meet their emotional, social, health, nutritional and psychological needs. In the following years, Head Start has evolved into an eight-month program.

Head Start now serves more than 450,000 children and their families annually in urban and rural areas in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and the U.S. Territories. In 1969, Head Start was delegated from OEO to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and has now become a program within the Administration for Children, Youth and Families.

Since 1965, Head Start has serve more than 10.9 million children.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF VAN BUREN ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT Superintendent's Narrative, 1991-92
During the 1991-92 fiscal year, the Van Buren Public Schools operated on a six-hour instructional day with a full program of extracurricular activities and support services.
Some 6,110 K-12 students were served, 1% more than the 6,080 enrolled during 1990-91. Of the thirteen buildings in the district, ten were used for instructional purposes and one for administration. The remaining two continue under lease. The district employed 332 full-time equated K-12 certified teachers, up from the 327 employed during 1990-91. The minimum teachers salary for the year was $24,337, while the maximum was $52,918, as compared with $22,959 and $49,923, respectively, for 1990-91. Total funds spent for salaries of classroom teachers amounted to $14,236,764, up from $12,654,419 spent the previous year. The ratio of students to certificated staff was 18.6:1 for 1990-91 and 18.4:1 for 1991-92. The ending General Fund balance for 1991-92 of $2,787,935, is an increase over the previous year. This increase in General Fund balance occurred as a result of a) final effects of new tax revenue from the October 1, 1990 mileage election, b) realizing an increase in regular K-12 student enrollment over projection and c) a substantial increase in student enrollment under the Romulus Adult Education Consortium Program.

Physician provides aid to hurricane victims

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

He was one of 10 medical professionals sent to Hawaii to assist the victims of hurricane Earl.

Annapolis Hospital-Westland Center physician Dr. Karl Bandlien recently returned from Kauai after establishing a clinic for the residents and administering medicine to the wounded.

"I went with a medical team which consisted of emergency medical technicians, nurses and paramedics," Bandlien said. "We left Sept. 24 and returned Oct. 5."

When Bandlien arrived, there was no electricity, no water and 50 percent of all the structures on the island were either damaged or destroyed. "All of the homes were missing shingles," Bandlien said. "Many were without roofs. We were in the southern part of the island which was away from the tourist area."

The 10-member medical team was the last relief team to assist the residents of Kauai, according to Bandlien. The population on the island is approximately 50,000.

"We established a center base in Kalaheo," Bandlien said. "The military provided our transportation. We had enough room to build a clinic and establish a base."

The medical team traveled to various areas of southern Kauai assisting the residents which included Lawai, Eleele, Hanapepe, Waimea, Kekaha and Mana.

"Our team covered the entire southern shore," Bandlien said. "We saw houses that were once near the shoreline and were moved way back due to the tidal wave."

"The Red Cross was assisting many families. The military established an excellent support system bringing food and water."

All communication systems were lost due to the hurricane, according to Bandlien. A majority of the residents didn't know how bad the damage really was on the island.

"We found some badly neglected wounds which we treated," Bandlien said. "We treated several kids with infections. Most of the people were so generous that they didn't want us to treat them but they wanted us to treat their neighbor."

The 10-member team treated 2,300 patients.

"By the time we left, the local hospital was up and running again," Bandlien said. "The local doctors also returned to their practice. We went house-to-house to treat the people."

"It was a wonderful opportunity to do something good. The people didn't expect anything."

Bandlien is a leader for the National Disaster Medical team in the state. Each year he trains and prepares with other members of disaster teams across the U.S.

"The personal satisfaction I found besides helping these people is meeting all the highly qualified members of the medical team," Bandlien said. "They were not only there to do the job, but they each had a very personal commitment to help the people."

Bandlien is a general surgeon at Annapolis Hospital-Westland Center.

How does your garden grow?

Hydroponics fascinates visitors to Envotech open house

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Whenever Envotech Inc. opens its doors to the public, visitors flock to see the only hydroponic greenhouse in the area.

Willow Run Farms, managed by Jim Quinn, draws visitors to observe the 14 types of herbs, salad greens and varieties of lettuce that are grown without soil in a nutrient-enriched water solution.

The greenhouse, which is located above a closed, solid waste sanitary landfill cell, grows a variety of greens in the controlled environment.

Willow Run Farms is the only greenhouse of its kind in the nation and one of the few in the world, according to the manager. Visitors from Japan and many other countries have made trips to the greenhouse to study the techniques of hydroponic farming, according to the facility manager.

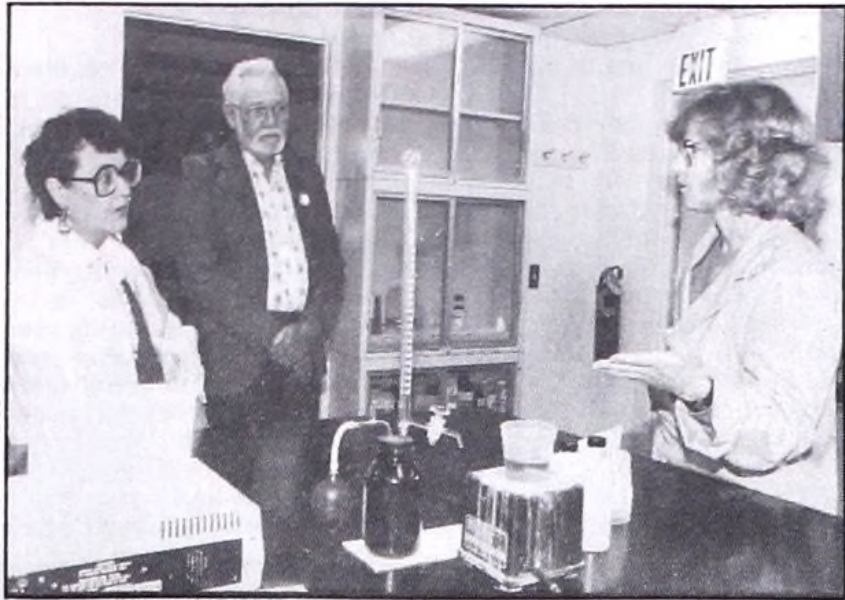

The greenhouse utilizes methane gas, which is converted into electricity by the Wayne Energy Recovery co-generation program, to heat and light the facility.

Quinn noted that the use of its own power is a real plus in Michigan where the cost of utilities limit the greenhouse industry.

Some 800 visitors toured the facility during the open house last month.

In addition to visiting the greenhouse, the tour brought guests to view:

- Michigan Recovery Systems, Inc., specialist in the recycling of industrial solvents and energy recovery.
- Wayne Energy Recovery, develop of energy recovery technologies for landfill operations.
- Wayne Disposal, Inc., the only licensed commercial hazardous waste landfill in the state.
- Michigan Disposal, Inc., a waste processing company.

Willow Farms Farms Manager Jim Quinn (right) answers questions about hydroponic gardening to visitors at the Envotech open house in Van Buren Township. The greenhouse grows herbs, such as basil, mint, chervil and cilantro. It also grows arugula, watercress, endive, cress, spinach, baby bok choy and other specialty salad greens in a soil-less environment. ANP photo by Ken Garner

THANKS TO YOUR DONATION, CHARLIE LIVES IN A HOUSE, NOT A HOME.

Too often, when the elderly can't care for themselves anymore, they end up in a home. Well, you're helping to change that.

Your donation to the United Way helps support organizations like CareGivers, which provide in-home care and other supportive services for 12,200 elderly people in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

The United Way supports 145 agencies. Nearly 90 cents of every dollar you contribute goes directly to work, since only 10.4 cents goes towards campaign and administrative costs. Your contributions help the disabled, the abused and the homeless, right here. For Charlie and other elderly people, please give to the United Way. And help keep them in a house, not a home.

Congressman sees no effect in redistricting

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP News Editor

United States Congressman William D. Ford is confident that the re-organization of his Congressional district will have little if no effect on the outcome of the upcoming Nov. 3 election.

The redistricting occurred as a result of the population figures tabulated in the last Census count.

Ford was sad to lose his constituents in Taylor where he grew up, but he was pleased to learn that he will once again represent residents in Inkster.

"In 1982 they took Inkster out of my district and they were put into the 17th Congressional District," Ford said. "For the past 10 years I haven't represented Inkster, but I did represent Inkster for 20 years before that."

"During that 20 years when I represented the citizens of Inkster, I took 87 percent of the vote in Inkster and now they are part of the new district," Ford said.

The redistricting also brought to the new district citizens living in Ann Arbor.

"I'm so happy to finally have some constituents to the left of me," Ford said about the acquisition.

"I think the number one thing is the condition of the economy," the 28-year veteran of Congress said. "They are also concerned with safety on the job, and if their job goes what will they do?"

"They are also worried about having health benefits," Ford said.

He also emphasized that voters who choose him must take one additional step and choose a new president.

"The economy won't change until we get a president who will quit concentrating on trickle-down economics," Ford said.

Ford hopes that presidential candidate Gov. Bill Clinton (D-Arkansas) will spend more dollars on education and re-training of employees who are displaced in the work place, if he is elected.

He is also concerned with the method being used to reduce the size of the military forces.

Ford claimed that President George Bush is proposing to cut the defense, but what concerns Ford is that many of the bases that are being closed are in the United States rather than overseas.

"Why isn't he bringing people home who are over in Japan or Germany spending your tax dollars on goods and merchandise in those countries?" Ford said. "Why are we spending $200 billion? To defend ourselves against Toyota?"

"All of the bases he is proposing to close are in the United States except for two," Ford said. "Before you dump thousands of people in the United States, dump thousands in other countries."

"Each gets a paycheck that you and I pay for," Ford said. "Then they spend the money in another country."

Ford is also against additional funding for the Stealth Bomber and he is also against the National Aeronautics and Space Association (NASA) space station.

"They are spending $40 billion dollars on a space station, when we can't fix the problems we have here," Ford said. "Who are we racing with now? This is where the big technology costs are going now."

Vanity phone numbers ready to ring

With the availability of a new telephone number service, one can give out his name and phone number at the same time.

The new Michigan Bell Custom Number Service allows customers to personalize their phone numbers much as they do when they purchase "vanity" license plates for their vehicles.

Subscribers to Custom Number Service are able to choose any telephone number not currently in use from a bank of numbers normally assigned to their area. For example, a custom number might spell out a person's name such as 555-Mike, 555-Lisa or 555-Joan. A Veronica might compromise for a 555-Roni or a Alphonse could choose a 555-Alfy.

"A customer establishing service for the first time ordinarily is assigned a phone number that is randomly drawn from the company database," said Marcia Buhl of Michigan Bell. "With the introduction of the Custom Number Service, businesses and residential customers now may request specific customized telephone numbers for a one-time charge of $38."

"Customers have told us they want more control over their numbers, and now they are limited only by their imaginations and the availability of the number they want," said the Michigan Bell public relations manager.

In the past, the company has aided people to obtain special numbers on an informal basis, a practice which is costly and time-consuming, according to Buhl.

Michigan Bell annually assigns approximately 60,000 new phone numbers to customers.

THIS SUMMER ALANA CAN BE LIKE ANY OTHER KID, AND FORGET HER HISTORY.

Alana is eight years old. For the last six years she has battled leukemia. That's six years of hospital visits and treatments twice a week. It's no way to spend a childhood.

But thanks to your donations to the United Way, agencies like the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan can send kids like Alana to "Special Days" Camp. A place where Alana can enjoy carefree days of swimming, canoeing, and newfound friends.

The United Way supports 145 agencies. Nearly 90 cents of every dollar you contribute goes directly to work, since only 10.4 cents goes toward campaign and administrative costs. Your contributions help the homeless, and fight child abuse, right here in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties. So please give to the United Way, and help kids like Alana leave their history in the past.

WHEN I GROW UP

Hoover Elementary School kindergartners have aspirations similar to those of kindergartners in previous decades.

They dream about having many careers, including joining the circus, helping others by being doctors and putting out fires as a firefighter.

The heroes and heroines have changed as well as the problems these kindergartners said are of most concern in the world for them. The Associated Newspapers talked with Scott Ross Dailey, Tanya Fielhauer, Shelley Conrad, Danielle Muncie and Daryl Fox about their hopes and dreams for the future.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Both Tanya and Shelley wanted to be doctors when they grow up, but Scott had other plans for his career.

"I want to be a fireman so I can help save people," Scott said.

Danielle said she would like to be in the circus, but she wasn't sure exactly what she wanted to do while she was there.

"I just like everything about it," Danielle said.

Daryl was very definite about what he wants to be, and he even demonstrated exactly how he was going to master this technique.

"I want to be a wood balancer," Daryl said. "You have to have a lot of balance to be a wood balancer."

Who are your heroes today?

Scott admires Dark Wing Duck of the cartoon series. Tanya and Shelley shared the same heroine.

"We like Barbi," Shelley said. "She has beautiful long hair."

Danielle really didn't have a hero or heroine. Daryl, however, was once again very specific about his choice whom he admired.

"I like Jean Claude Van Damme," Daryl said.

What are the major problems in the world today?

All the kindergartners said noise was the major problem for them.

"I hear my mom and dad yelling all the time," Scott said. "Too much homework is also a problem."

"You can't get much sleep because of the owls and trains passing by," Tanya said.

What would you do if you won $10 million dollars?

Scott said he would buy as many toys as he could with $10 million.

"I'd fly to Disney World with my family," Tanya said.

"I would buy lots of paints and paint different things," Danielle said.

"I would put some in a donation bank and help others," Daryl said.

What makes you happy?

"Lots of fruit," Scott said.

"A happy face," Tanya said.

Ah, the joy of being young without any worries or pressures in life.

When you're a child, the major concerns are how many best friends you have, what's for dinner and how long your mother will let you stay outside to play baseball or skip rope on the sidewalk.

As you grow older, concerns begin to focus on dating, being in style with the latest fashions and getting that driver's license. It's evident in the television shows today that the children of the 1970s and 1980s are not the children of the 1990s.

In the 1970s, the ideal family was portrayed as the Bradfords in Eight is Enough. The 10 members of the family all tried to listen to one another's problems and help each other out in hard times. It was a simplistic life.

In the 1980s, the Cosby family was introduced showing a more upscale professional mother and father with children all trying to make it in society by attending posh universities. They were a happy family who stuck together in the hard times.

Today, families such as Full House portray one of the major battles of society today—raising a family with only one spouse. Three male friends decide to stay together to assist one another with parenting.

Priorities and values of families in the 1970s and today have changed, but the hopes and dreams of children and young adults have not. Recently the Associated Newspapers talked with kindergarten students from Hoover Elementary School in Wayne and seniors from John Glenn High School in Westland about what they want to be when they grow up, and what their concerns are about the world today.

Seniors in the 1990s have a lot of hope for their future despite the economic conditions.

They want to be doctors and lawyers just like their parents. Their views on life are somewhat philosophical, and their main concern is making sure their own families are happy.

Heros and heroines are mothers and political figures. The Associated Newspapers talked with Yvonne Garcia, Kate Adamson (an exchange student from Australia), Stephanie Mayo, Chris Donnelly and Jon Kreger about their hopes and dreams for the future.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

The majority of this group would like to strive to be lawyers in the near future.

"I like law, and I like money," Jon said. "I'd like to be a criminal defense lawyer."

"I'd like to be involved with medicine," Chris said. "Possibly the area of pediatrics."

"I'd like to be a doctor, but I'm not sure what kind just yet," Stephanie said. "I would be interested in obstetrics. There is a lot liability in this field, and some doctors don't really know what their doing."

"I want to be a lawyer or a journalist," Kate said. "If I become involved as a journalist, I would like to be an international correspondent."

"I want to be a lawyer because I would like to represent minorities," Yvonne said.

Who are your heroes/heroines today?

Kate admires the former prime minister of Australia Robert Manzie.

"In my opinion, he was the greatest prime minister," Kate said.

"I admire my mom," Stephanie said. "She didn't finish high school. She worked and took care of the family."

Chris doesn't have a hero or heroine. Jon, however, has chosen a political figure.

"George Bush is my hero," Jon said. "As far as leadership, he definitely has the qualities."

"I admire my mom," Yvonne said. "She does everything for the family. She's a remarkable woman."

What are the major problems in the world today?

"Inequality," Kate said. "Inequality with different countries and among human beings as a whole. A lot of people can become more aware and possible find solutions to inequality through education."

"Family values are a lot more liberal," Jon said. "People need higher standards. The solution for this would be to elect George Bush for president who believes in strengthening family values."

"Education is a major problem," Chris said. "There are so many countries which have a lack of quality education. It could be a lot better if there was more money and better programs. We can't compete with other countries. We're so far behind. In most countries the students speak two or three languages."

"I think violence is a major problem," Stephanie said. "So many innocent people are being killed. Parents need to start showing more care for their children."

"I think education is also a problem," Yvonne said. "We can't compete with other countries because we are lazy. I think we should have more days in school and less vacation."

What would you do if you won $10 million dollars?

"I would put most of it away and then use a lot of it for education," Chris said.

"I would invest a good part and then give some to my family," Kate said. "I would also travel around the world."

"I would put half of it away," Yvonne said. "Then, I would pay a doctor to make a hearing aid so my sister, who is deaf, could hear."

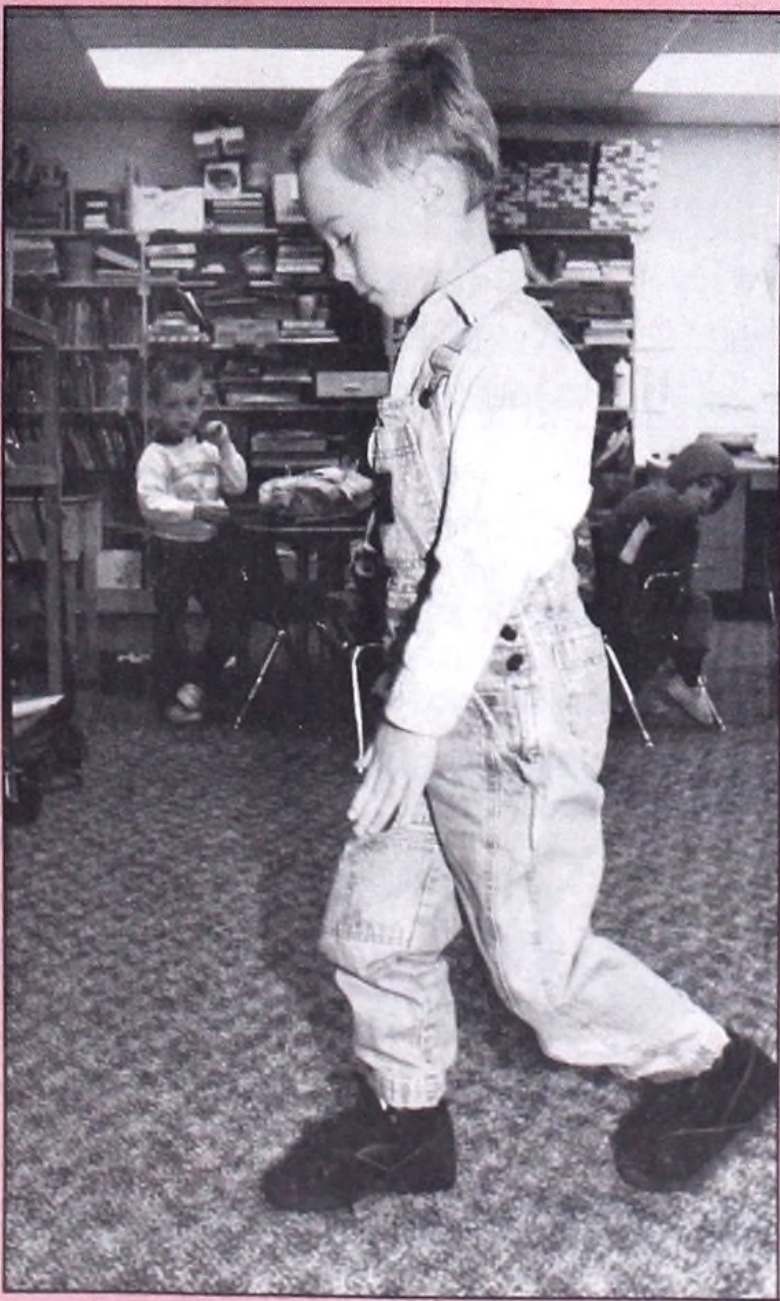

"I would put some in the bank and then spend some on education," Stephanie said. "I would give some to my family, too."

"I would give it all to my parents," Jon said. "I just want enough to go to college. I have nine brothers and sisters so the money would definitely help my parents."

What makes you happy?

"Being young and knowing you can make this country a better place to live in," Yvonne said.

"Sometimes when you don't want to grow up, life is really scary," Chris said.

Wayne council members 'exorcise' haunted house plan

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Wayne resident David Carrick had everything ready, set to open Nightmare Mansion at Mad Anthony's when his plans came to a screeching halt.

Members of the Wayne City Council approved Carrick's plans for a haunted house at 4916 south Wayne Road Oct. 6 by a 4-to-3 vote. On Oct. 13, however, at a special meeting which was posted on cable and in the City Hall, approval was rescinded and Carrick's plans rejected by a 5-to-2 vote.

"We were ready to open when this happened," Carrick said. "At the council meeting, I was not provided with the reasons why they voted this down. The meeting prior to their first decision, the council was supposed to provide me with a list of concerns about the haunted house. I never received them."

The Oct. 6 decision was a miscount of votes, according to City Manager John Zech.

"When the mayor (Ken Warfield) said the 'ayes have it', after the meeting, some council members said they voted no, not yes," Zech said. "It should have been killed because the actual vote was three against and four in favor."

"A special meeting was scheduled the following Tuesday, and the approval for the haunted house failed with five against and two in favor."

Once Carrick received approval for the project, he began preparing for the haunted house, he said.

"I've done the last three Haunted Theatres at the Historic Wayne Theater so I was very well aware of how to run a haunted house," Carrick said. "One thing that did surprise me was the building department telling me that I needed to get permission from the council to run this."

Wayne Police Deputy Chief Kerry Webb outlined three areas of concern about the haunted house for public safety which included: lack of adequate parking; high density of traffic on Wayne Road traveling at 35 mph with the potential for traffic backups and pedestrian safety.

"Potential parking problems may occur on the residential side streets and the parking lot to the rear of Plagen's Market due to the limited parking at this location," Webb said. "There are only 44 to 46 parking spaces at this location. "There is no parking in the alley (fire lane) to the rear of Mad Anthony's and no parking on Harroun Parkway."

Traffic problems could occur on Wayne Road with vehicles attempting to enter the Mad Anthony's parking lot, according to Webb.

"The speed limit on Wayne Road is 35 mph, and according to the Wayne County Road Commission, about 17,400 vehicles travel Wayne Road between Annapolis and Van Born Road during a 24-hour period, classifying it as a heavy traveled road," Webb said.

Pedestrian safety could become a problem if large crowds of kids gather around the front of the building, according to Webb.

"The building is located very near Wayne Road and does not allow much room to accommodate the number of people often found outside haunted houses," Webb said.

Carrick said he would have preferred to have had the list of concerns from the council and police before he attended the council meeting so he could have been more prepared to answer questions.

"I know I got a late start with this project, but once you get it going, you have to do it right away to get it ready," Carrick said.

Council members were also concerned, they said, as to the beneficiary of the profits from the event. Carrick had worked out an agreement to donate a portion of the profits from the event to the Lutheran Church in Westland he said.

Councilman Tom Kelly wanted to know the percentage of proceeds from the haunted house which would go to the church.

"The church would get 40 percent, and I will keep 60 percent," Carrick said.

Program seeks students

The Head Start Program, offered by the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools in conjunction with a grant from the federal government, is still accepting applications for the 1992-93 school year.

In order to be eligible for the free program children must:

- Live in the Plymouth-Canton school district
- Be 3 or 4 years old by Dec. 1, 1992
- Parents have to verify income status (receiving public assistance or having an annual income of no more than $13,400 for a family of four)
- The child is a son or daughter of a foster parent
- The child can qualify in a handicapped category (may exceed the income requirement)

The PC Head Start Program is located at Central Middle School, 650 Church Street in Plymouth. The program uses the nationally acclaimed High-Scope curriculum and breakfast and lunch are served each day. Bus transportation also is available on established bus routes.

Three-year-old children will be part of the Home Visit Program. Visits are made to the child's home one day each week by staff. Mother and children also work together on early learning activities as part of Home Visit.

As part of the parent program, parents participate in fellow parent organizations and volunteer free time in the classrooms. The parent program includes "parent only" trips, education classes and joint learning activities for parents and their children.

More Detroit suburban car buyers

When you want to reach Detroit's affluent suburban car buyers, you want to advertise in SPRING.

Because SPRING's audited circulation of 728,609 more than doubles the suburban daily circulation of either The Detroit News (288,960) or Free Press (358,553).

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more—and spend more.

► 44,500 more purchasers of new vehicles than The News (21,900 more than the Free Press).

► 53,900 more purchasers of used vehicles than The News (23,100 more than the Free Press).

► 52,500 more households with three or more vehicles than The News (5,700 more than the Free Press).

Not to mention more TBA purchasers, boat owners, and owners of expensive homes.

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more.

Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more?

To get all the facts, call your SPRING representative.

Opinion

Just say 'No'

We don't mean to be glib, but the efforts of several self-serving groups to take advantage of the dissatisfaction and general discontent of the state voters is somewhat irritating.

It appears to us that there are political office-holders and corporate managers who really believe that the general public in America is stupid. If that is the case, we suspect they are in for a big surprise in the voting booth next month.

Americans, despite what many would like to think, are not stupid, nor are they lazy. In this state, particularly, they are far smarter, quicker and more attuned to the political shortcomings of their leaders than many would like. And, we caution again, they will not be duped or taken advantage of by misleading propaganda and publicity.

They will be asked next month to approve the tax amendment proposal Proposal A. This is a so-called "limit" on tax assessment rates, which would limit the annual assessment increases on home and farms (but not businesses) to 5 percent annually or the rate of inflation, whichever might be lower.

We think a "No" vote would be appropriate. Our local assessors and school districts are advising us that this could be a disaster for our cities and our schools. While it sounds good, we suspect that it might be a matter of taking it from one section of our taxes and placing the burden on those even less able to pay.

If, however, voters feel that some type of tax reform must be approved, this is our preference.

Voters will also be asked to approve Proposal B which suggests we limit the terms of those elected to office. We are also leery of this piece of legislation. Voters already have the right to limit these terms. All they have to do is fail to return incumbents to office when the voting booths open.

We strongly suspect special-interest groups are attempting to take advantage of the general malaise of the public in our state to further their own ends by eliminating some legislators who do not see eye-to-eye with them and cannot be influenced with the omnipotent PAC funding.

These are anti-government and anti-incumbent times, and we fear that emotion may override good judgment. We would ask this question, would we limit the career term of a doctor, a lawyer, a teacher? Then why would we limit a career politician, who like others, should benefit from years of experience in dealing with government matters?

If voters are not satisfied with a legislator or do not agree with his or her action, they should utilize their right and not return them to office.

This one smacks of manipulation.

Voters will also be faced with Proposal C, Governor Engler's present cause. We don't like it. We do not feel this Cut and Cap will cure the state problems and we shudder to imagine what will happen if school financing is cut into any deeper, which is what will happen with this legislation.

We think there are better solutions, we think they are resting on their disagreeable and egotistic posteriors in Lansing and we think they'd better get to it without attempting to pull the ever-so-carefully groomed wool over the eyes of the voters.

This proposal won't cure anything but Gov. Engler's sagging approval ratings. We suggest a no vote.

And our least favorite of all, Proposal D is nothing more than an insult, we feel, to the intelligence of our voters. We can't imagine that voters actually will take the option of a slightly lower insurance premium which will limit the damages victims of auto accidents can collect to $250,000. We are aware of the frivolous litigation which goes on, but to surrender the care of those permanently injured to the mercy of state agencies when insurance companies will no longer be liable for long-term care is an exercise in foolishness.

Why would an insurance company sponsor legislation? To benefit the general public? We think not. Where will the money come from to pay for the long-term care in excess of $250,000 for accident victims? We suggest it might place an increased burden on taxpayers when the responsibility lies with the insurance carriers. Vote no.

Insurance reform is needed, but this isn't it.

Teaching methods are criticized

To the editor:

Where should our sympathies lie? Should we pity the thousands of children who have not yet begun the school year or have compassion on those students who have already started? I opt for the latter.

Every new school year brings with it "new" teaching methods, "new programs", "new" perspectives and "new" insights to be introduced into the public classroom with much pomp and circumstance. And yet, at the end of the school years, once again, we witness the same results as before—Johnny still can't read; Johnny goes from grade to grade; Johnny graduates despite his illiteracy.

Why is the educational system failing our children so miserably in public schools? Why are taxpayers' money is being repeatedly spent or remedial reading programs when the problem of illiteracy could have been prevented in the first place? The illiteracy issue merits the attention of parents and schools.

There is a proven, tried and true method of teaching children to read. It is known as phonics. Children used to be taught with this method, and it works. Unfortunately, this method has been replaced with another method known as Look-Say which has proven to be a failure. By the second and third grade the weaknesses in the Look-Say method begin to surface. Why is it still used?

Could it be that the entire meaning of the word "education" has been changed to mean something other than we think? It is possible that the educational bureaucracy has become more interested in collecting grand monies for ineffective programs than in effectively educating students? Is it possible that "effective" academic education has been almost entirely replaced by "affective" (dealing with emotions, feelings, etc.), non-academic education? Indeed, it could be and is more than possible.

Johnny may be illiterate but he no longer suffers from lack of self esteem. Poor Johnny now "feels good" and dumb. Johnny knows how to practice "safe sex" and about condoms and Mary learns about birth control and knows where to get an abortion if she's pregnant. Both pupils know about their rights, and parents who are not in agreements with these school teachings are often referred to as old-fashioned, archaic, no-understanding, authoritative, interfering and misguided.

No longer is individual achievement stressed as the so-called "collective" good of society and the state become the public schools main theme song.

Yes, these children in the public school classroom deserve our sympathy and help. They are literally being victimized and assaulted by horrendous teaching every school day rather than being given a sound and solid education. It's high time for the public educational system to practice teaching "effective" academic education and withdraw from promoting detrimental "affective," non-academic teachings.

drag strips. They are used more and more by people as a means to get around Wayne Road and by high schoolers, though not completely, as a means to get to the high school faster. It is extremely unsafe for the kids to play, ride their bikes or even for citizens to walk safely.

God help us if we have to cross the street. There are many senior citizens living in the area who walk and it frightens me to think than no once cares enough to do the posted speed of 25 mph. On Chestnut, even that is too fast. Will it take someone getting killed before there is anything done about it?

Several phone calls to the police and the traffic control don't seem to be enough. I have personally seen some very close calls with people turning onto Chestnut from Second when there are cars parked along both sides. So, not only can we not park in front of our homes during the day because of the not parking signs, which may I add, could be alleviated by giving us resident tickers, but it is unsafe to park there any way.

When will someone wake up and do something? When it's too late for someone? Please take the time and monitor the speed and traffic on these streets, before it is too late.

Name withheld upon request

Traffic patterns are criticized

To the editor:

I've been a Wayne resident for three years now, and this has been bothering me since I've moved in. Maybe writing a letter to you will help me alleviate the problem, or at least bring it to someone's attention.

Student help 'adopted' school devastated by Hurricane Andrew

They gathered pencils, erasers, notebooks and folders and this week will be packing them up to ship to their adopted school in Florida.

The students and staff of Monroe Elementary School have completed their project of assisting the Olympia Heights Elementary School students in Miami, Fla. with rebuilding their school.

Olympia Heights was damaged by Hurricane Andrew. Heights is about the same size school as Monroe with 700 students, according to Monroe Principal Chuck Stockwell.

"Our school wanted to do something to help those students," Stockwell said. "The building is still standing. The roof was blown off, but they are in the process of getting it fixed."

$250 in donations for the project, according to Jeanette Hoff, chairwoman for the Olympia Heights adoption program.

"The parents and businesses in the community were all fantastic," Hoff said. "We're shipping the boxes this week."

The Parents and Teachers Organization organized the project. Other individuals who assisted included: Nancy Grzebienik, Judy Vanderburg, Sarah Smykowski, Janet Jackson and Judi Reed.

The students collected more than 1,800 school items to send to Olympia students.

"We are planning to have an ongoing relationship with Olympia Heights by establishing a pen pal system," Hoff said. "We're also going to make a video tape to send to the school."

The Monroe staff and students would like to thank the following individuals and businesses for their support: Deloris Ryan, Wayne Westland Credit Union, Country Mouse, Bridges Dental Lab, Creative Treasures, K-mart, Cobbs, Juenemann Insurance, Mail Boxes Etc. and Hahn Elastomer Corp.

Conference continues in murder charge

A Nov. 6 conference has been scheduled for a Canton Township man on murder charges before Detroit Wayne County Recorder's Court Judge David Kerwin.

Frederick Lane Morris, 33, is charged by the Wayne Police Department with first degree murder, felony murder, armed robbery and one count of possession of a felony firearm in the death of Wayne business owner Charles Piper.

The conference has been continued for more than four weeks.

Piper, 53, of Westland, was shot to death Jan. 5 at his establishment, Chuck's Cycle Service on Michigan Avenue in Wayne.

Morris was arraigned Feb. 27 before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold.

His arrest was a result of a lengthy investigation conducted by Wayne Deputy Police Chief Kerry Webb, Lt. Mel Drews and Sgt. Chris Johnson, according to Wayne Police Chief John Colligan.

Colligan informed The Associated Newspapers earlier that Morris has an extensive criminal record. Colligan said Morris was in the Ottawa County jail awaiting a court appearance for another felony when Wayne police issued a warrant for his arrest.

If Morris is found guilty of first degree murder, he could face a double life sentence in prison. The robbery armed charge carries a sentence up to life, and conviction of a felony firearm violation mandates a two-year sentence, according to Webb.

Wayne police received the initial call about Piper from his fiancée, according to Colligan.

"We received a call from his fiancée requesting we check out the shop," Colligan said. "Apparently he had not gone home after the shop was closed. She was concerned and called for assistance."

When police arrived at Chuck's Cycle, officers found Piper on the floor inside the building.

Various witnesses testified in March during a two-week examination at the 29th District Court before Archbold. Robert Sikes, a friend of Morris, testified that he gave Morris a .38 special caliber wad-cutter gun. The same type of gun used in the killing of Piper, according to retired Michigan State Police Lt. David Balash who testified earlier in the proceedings.

Dealer adds Infiniti to line

One of the largest auto dealers in the state has added the prestigious Infiniti line of automobiles to his growing domestic and foreign vehicle offerings. Bill Cook, in conjunction with his partner David Fischer, expects to open the second Michigan Infiniti dealership in Farmington Hills early next month. Cook has sold the Buick, Mazda, Nissan, Audi, Porsche, Volkswagon and Lotus lines at his Farmington Hills location since 1979. Fischer is a partner in the Suburban Motor Mall group in Troy which sells Oldsmobile, Cadillac, Pontiac, GMC Truck, Saturn, Nissan and Toyota vehicles. The two men also own Farmington Hills Chrysler- Plymouth. Infiniti, the three-year-old luxury line built by Japanese automaker Nissan, offers three models in 1993: the flagship Q45, the new J30 and the entry level G20 model.

“The Infiniti is tremendous driver’s car,” Cook said Tuesday. “The quality is beyond belief, as is reflected in driver’s surveys ranking Infiniti only with Lexus as the finest automobile in the country.” The 1993 Infiniti J30, offered for the first time, is a four-door luxury sedan introduced by the automaker to compete with the Lexus 300 line, the BMW 300-series and Accura luxury models.

Glenn, Wayne are victory away from league title

Rockets to meet Western

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

From start to finish Friday night, Westland John Glenn was in control of Walled Lake Central.

And Glenn coach Chuck Gordon would like to see a repeat this Friday when his undefeated Rockets take to the field against unbeaten Walled Lake Western.

The two rivals will settle their differences at 7:30 p.m. at Western. To the victor will go the 1992 conference crown and probably a berth in the post-season playoffs.

Western is coming off of a 25-10 victory over Livonia Franklin for a seventh straight win, while the Westlanders wrapped up their fifth divisional win (seventh overall) at the expense of Central, 34-0.

The Rockets have yet to be tested on the gridiron this season. Gordon believes that the day of reckoning has arrived. "This is a huge test obviously," said Gordon, commenting on the title game. "Western has a veteran team with excellent size. What makes them so tough is a powerful offensive line."

Glenn jumped on Central early. The Rocket defense got the first score as Matt Howton scooped up a fumble and returned it 50 yards for a touchdown. A pass from John Miller to Derek Besco was good for the two-point conversion and Glenn was up 8-0.

The Rockets were never seriously challenged.

Glenn came back and put together a drive at the end of the first quarter with Joe Paddock finishing it off with a 2-yard touchdown run.

Glenn quarterback Brian Morrison and kicker Doug Hammond turned it into a 21-0 score before the half as the Rocket QB scored on a keeper from the one. Hammond booted the extra point.

Two Morrison TD passes, both to Bryan Besco, rounded out the Glenn scoring. Morrison teamed up with Besco on a 30-yard strike and also hit him for a 19-yarder for the final score.

The Rocket defense managed to steal three Central passes with Howton getting two of them and Tony Grieb the other. Howton and Miller each recovered fumbles.

Gordon said that he and the team feels good about winning the division with a 5-0 record.

"And we are looking forward to playing in the championship game," he added.

Huron, Farmington win John Glenn titles

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Ann Arbor Huron and Farmington dominated the 1992 running of the Westland John Glenn cross country invitational.

With seven-points to spare, Ann Arbor topped a field of 11 local and area teams to win the men's division, while Farmington managed to shake Plymouth-Salem from its heels by an identical number of points to capture the crown for the women's division.

The invitational featured the best of freshmen and sophomore talent, according to Glenn coach Jess Shough.

"This invitational has been an annual event for underclassmen," said Shough. "I felt that it was a great meet this year with excellent participation and superb times. I also want to thank our booster's club for their assistance."

Huron, led by Joe Monaghan, piled up 72 points to win the team title. Monaghan, who toured the 5,000-meters in 16:51, claimed the individual honors.

In the meantime, Salem received an exceptional effort from Leah Retherford, who competed the 3.1 miles in 19:53 for the gold. Salem, however, finished runnerup with 49 points to Farmington (45).

In the men's race, Dearborn was in second-place with 79 points, followed by Dearborn (79), Redford Catholic Central (83), Belleville (53), Northville (146), Dearborn Edsel Ford (156), while John Glenn, Garden City, Livonia Churchill, Dearborn Heights

Salem puts on show for Stevenson

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Plymouth-Salem put it all together Friday night against Livonia Stevenson and has set the stage for its crossover showdown with Livonia Franklin.

"I felt we played our best game of the season," stressed Salem coach Tom Moshimer, after the Rocks rallied to a 29-7 victory over the Stevenson Spartans. "We're looking forward to playing Franklin."

The two teams finished second-best in their respective divisions.

Franklin will host the 1 p.m. Saturday crossover game which will bring the curtain down on the 1992 conference season.

"Franklin has an excellent team this year. They upset Farmington Harrison earlier. We have a lot of respect for their coaching staff," Moshimer said.

Stevenson, thanks to the generosity of Salem in the form of a turnover, drew first blood. The Spartans jumped out in front 7-0 before Rob Shepley and Co. went to work. Before the evening was over, Shepley accounted for two of the Rocks' TDs. He finished with 112 yards on 17 attempts.

The rugged senior fullback had 10 rushes in the Rocks' first touchdown drive and scored from the 23 with 2:28 left in the opening half. Then, he contributed the two-point conversion to lift the Rocks into the lead for good, 8-7.

Salem erupted for two touchdowns in the third quarter as quarterback Rob Kenney engineered a six-play, 67-yard drive that ended with the QB taking the ball in from the 20.

Unheralded Southgate blocks Zebra's path to last crown

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The last Wolverine 'A' Conference football title is nearly in the grasp of Wayne Memorial High School.

A 20-3 victory over Fordson on Saturday put coach Chuck Howton and the Zebras in a two-way tie for first-place.

And, with one game left, Wayne can't afford a slip.

Wayne plays an unheralded Southgate Anderson in the finale and Howton warns that Anderson has the capability to upset "anyone in this league." Southgate gave Belleville fits Friday night before losing a thriller, 19-18.

"If their real team shows up, it's going to be a war," said Howton, commenting on the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde nature of the gridiron performance of Southgate this year.

Wayne came up with a superb effort on defense, while running back Bruce Calhoun had his best performance of the year on offense. The combination derailed the Fordson title express. It was the first time Wayne had beaten a Fordson team in the Wolverine 'A' and probably the second time in the past 25 years.

And, with the league scheduled to be disbanded after the current school year, it is the last chance Wayne has to win the conference title.

Surprisingly, Fordson helped in its own demise. The Tractors committed five - four in the first half - costly mistakes.

But it was the hosts who got on the scoreboard first - a 37-yard field goal by Ali Barakat gave the Tractors a 3-0 lead.

Wayne came back with 2:30 left in the quarter on a 18-yard touchdown pass. Quarterback Tim Mate found tight end Jason Overton open in the end zone for the TD.

Reggie McCarthy, a 5-10, 180-pound running back, keyed the initial Wayne TD drive. When the Tractors defense concentrated on Calhoun, McCarthy came through with big first-down plays.

The Zebras settled for and later built upon the 6-3 lead after Jim McEwen point-after-attempt failed.

Wayne cashed in on a third-quarter Fordson fumble thanks to sophomore tackle Rob Mackey, who recovered the loose ball on the Fordson 30. Mate moved the Zebras to the one on five plays where he handed off to Calhoun who plowed his way through for the touchdown.

Calhoun came back in the same quarter and scored on a 31-yard run to account for the final touchdown. Mate and Overton teamed up on the two-point conversion.

Calhoun compiled a total of 139 yards in 19 tries to bring his total rushing yardage to 940 for the season. His two TDs against Fordson gave him 12 on the season.

Mate connected on six of 12 passes for 92 yards and one touchdown, while McCarthy had 11 opportunities and rushed for 51 yards.

Romulus keeps hopes alive

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus celebrated homecoming and head football coach Dan Henry's 40th birthday Friday night with a 7-0 victory over Milan.

The victory, the Eagles' fifth in seven outings, kept post-season playoffs hopes alive for Romulus.

But Henry and his charges must get by Woodhaven and Belleville - their final two remaining opponents - to stay in consideration for the playoffs.

"It will be tough," said Henry, who turned 40 Friday evening. "Woodhaven (3-4) is a big team but unfortunately for them they have had to play on the road all season. Their field is being repaired."

"And Belleville has always been a tough game for us. These final two are really going to be tough ones."

With the wind and rain playing havoc on strategies and game plans, Romulus and Milan dug in for a duel on the defenses. The scoreless duel ended in the fourth quarter when, on the first play, junior running back Phillip Franklin broke loose on a 56-yard counter for what proved to be the only touchdown of the game.

The key play of the series was pulled off in the last seconds of the third quarter, again by Franklin, who turned a third and 21 situation into an Eagle first down. After taking the hand-off from quarterback Bob Bergeron, Franklin slipped past a pair of would-be Milan tacklers and made it into first-down territory.

"In two plays, Franklin got us 72 yards," noted Henry.

Both teams played especially well on defense. Our kids refused to give up.
- Dan Henry
Romulus coach

Jon Devereaux, as he has all season for the Eagles, put the ball through the uprights, for the extra point.

"Both teams played especially well on defense," said Henry. "Our kids refused to give up."

Milan missed an exceptional opportunity to cash in on a Romulus turnover. The Eagles gave up the ball on their own nine and the defense, thanks to linebacker Charles Dudonis, held.

Milan also returned the kickoff after the Eagle TD to the Romulus 30 but couldn't go the distance.

Franklin finished the evening with the key TD, 118 of the Eagles' 205 total yards. He had 14 attempts. Bergeron, sticking to the ground game, did attempt seven passes and found receivers only three times for 15 yards.

Dudonis and outside linebacker Todd Hardwick led the defense. Dudonis accounted for four solos and had five assists, while Hardwick chipped in three solos and also had five assists.

Mike Grube, a tackle, and Rob Graham, a linebacker, also were commended for their defensive play. Grube carded two solos and six assists while Graham had six assists.

Romulus senior quarterback Bob Bergeron (9), getting ample protection from the line, is looking for his running back on this play. Bergeron and the Eagles posted a 7-0 victory over visiting Milan before a homecoming crowd. The victory boosted the Eagles record to 5-2 on the year and increased their post-season playoff stock. Wayne diver sets record

Wayne Memorial received a record-shattering performance from diver Misty Maniez and a victory from foreign-exchange student Anna Knudsson, but the Zebras couldn't match the Monroe depth and fell 139-39 in a Wolverine 'A' Conference women's swim meet.

"They just had too much depth for us," said Wayne coach Randy Ferguson, whose club will swim at home Thursday against Southgate Anderson. "Monroe and Trenton are probably the two finest teams in our league this season."

Maniez compiled 235.5 points and broke the school record (232.5) she had set earlier in the year.

Wayne also received a first place from Knudsson, an exchange student from Sweden. Knudsson led the field of the 500-yard freestyle event.

The Rocks failed to convert but had the lead, 14-7.

Brad Schult's interception set up the Rocks' next score. The back returned the ball 56 yards before he was brought down. Shepley, on a fourth-down, scored from the one.

A Kenney to Scott Helmstadter pass accounted for the two point conversion.

Stevenson managed to put together two separate sustained drives with one of them ending with a Shepley interception.

That second miscue led to a Schultz TD. Anuar Vargas kicked the extra point.

Moshimer commended the defense which managed to take the game away from the Spartans after the initial score. Linebackers Jay Perko and Shepley along with free safety Schultz, who finished with a pair of interceptions, stood out.

The Rocks stayed with their ground game because of the inclement weather - it rained most of the evening. The weather conditions hampered Kenney's aerial game. He managed to complete two of five passes, one going for a TD.

The Salem offensive line, with Andy Nipper showing the way, played its best overall game of the season, the Salem coach noted. He also praised defensive tackle Jim Helms and end Helmstadter for their efforts.

Howton praised a defense that held Fordson out of the end zone.

"Our kids were determined not to be denied. They got the job done."

Rob Mackey and Larry Conn were instrumental in erasing Fordson threats. Conn blocked a punt and recovered the ball in the second quarter. Johnny Ballard also recovered a Fordson fumble that eliminated a Tractor scoring opportunity.

Linebacker Murdank Forrest, tackles Conn and Leland Heath, and ends Verlon McClendon and Tony McGill made their presence felt. The Wayne secondary, Jeff Tapp, Charlie Monroe and Mate defused the Fordson aerial assault.

Howton had a personal reason to be pleased with the victory.

"I've been coach here for seven years," Howton noted, "and this is my first victory over Fordson."

Huron

Robichaud and Ypsilanti didn't field the required five runners for their team scores to count.

Stretson Steele of Dearborn was second overall with a 16:55 run. Steele was followed across the finish line by Henry Honeycutt from Glenn (17:41). Other medalists included: Mike Wainwright of Garden City (17:45); Craig Hogg of Belleville (17:45); John Bellamy of Belleville (18:00); Mike Danic of Garden City (18:02); Jon Cristian of Dearborn (18:04); Mark Sroczynski of Catholic Central (18:14); and Steven Deluca of Churchill (18:28).

Belleville women finished third in the field with 78 points, and the Tigers led Edsel Ford (104), Livonia Churchill (132), Northville (145), Dearborn (176) across the finish line. Glenn, Robichaud and Ypsilanti didn't have enough runners for a complete team.

Dana Goba of Farmington was second-best (20:14), and she was followed to the wire by teammate Pamela Buha (20:49). Sarah Hamilton from Salem was next (20:49), then it was Tina Harmon of Belleville (20:58), Stacy Moore of Salem (21:26), Courtney Shelton of Salem (21:36), Tracey Parker of Churchill (21:42), Anne Grimaldi of Farmington (21:45) and Claire Lagosh of Edsel Ford (21:47).

In dual meet competition last week, Glenn handed previously undefeated North Farmington a 26-29 setback as the Rockets picked up their first victory. The Westlanders finished 1-2 with Honeycutt (17:30) and Jeff Tapper (17:36). Other scores that counted include: Bob Lulek, who was fifth (18:06), John Lewis, eighth (18:31) and Ryan Zantow, 10th (18:43). The Rockets were also 13th with Mark Lawrence (19:40) and Chris Vanderburgh, who was 15th (19:52).

North "slammed" the Rockets' women's team, 19-44, despite the second-place finish of Tina Moore. Moore finished behind Emily Shively from North, who finished 20:18.

The Rockets return to the field at 4 p.m. today against Walled Lake Central. The meet will be staged at Central City Park in Westland.

Canton golfer eligible for sweepstakes

With one stroke, a Canton Township resident has scored his first hole-in-one and has become eligible for $1,000 in prize money.

Glenn Shaw Jr. fired the ace while playing at Elk Ridge Golf Club in Atlanta, Mich. in August.

Shaw carded his ace on the 153-yard, 4th hole. The Canton golfer and Scott Landane, the golf pro who validated the performance, are now eligible to enter the 32nd annual Drambuie Rusty Nail Hole-in-One Sweepstakes.

The sweepstakes runs from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1992. All entrants will receive a customized Hole-in-One bag tag from the Drambuie Liqueur Company in Edinburgh, Scotland.

The company sponsors the sweepstakes and the grand prize winner will receive a one-week trip to Scotland and a VIP tour of the Drambuie Liqueur Company. There is also a $1,000 cash prize.
